Faculty of Tourism

Fostering people to be active in the field of tourism

The Faculty of Tourism was established in 1999 and was the second faculty of its kind in Japan. Large numbers of our former graduates, who we call Old Boys and Old Girls (OB & OG), are currently active in the tourism industry. Sapporo International University's Faculty of Tourism is the only faculty of its kind within Hokkaido and puts emphasis on practical education and fostering skilled professionals. To cope with rapid globalization and further application of IT, we foster tourism professionals able to respond to diversity in tourism, through tourism hospitality training based on traditional Japanese hospitality culture and through rich fieldwork and internship experiences. We provide language training needed for tourism strategy, marketing and management strategy using ICT. We also encourage students to engage in case studies focusing on Hokkaido's appealing natural and food tourism destinations.

Department of Tourism Business

Students learn strategic tourism business with the aim of becoming leaders to drive forward Hokkaido's hospitality business.

Special management capabilities are essential in today's tourism business. Features of learning in this department include tourism studies, hotel management and ryokan management. Students learn practical skills and cultivate the hospitality mindset needed for practical situations through fieldwork and internships. They also take on the challenge of obtaining qualifications such as Certified General Travel Services Manager.

Department of International Tourism

Students gain specialist and practical knowledge about international tourism, to be active professionals in the field of international tourism.

We train students to be active globally, with English ability to the level of a licensed Guide Interpreter. We also train our students to be tourist guides with multilingual competence and abilities to analyze characteristics and trends of inbound tourism. In addition, we coordinate with other universities, domestically and internationally, to learn about the global tourism business integrating ICT and online travel sites.

Eight Features of Sapporo International University's Faculty of Tourism

1 Learn practical skills needed in society

There is a wide range of subjects linked directly to qualifications, such as Tourism Practitioner and travel agent certification.

2 Hands-on learning such as fieldwork and internships

Students can confirm the direction of their learning and issues through hands-on learning and gain problem-solving knowledge.

3 Clear learning targets by unit learning

Students can realize meaningful learning directly linked to their future professions by taking courses that interest them.

4 Latest tourism strategy courses using SNS, Cloud, and other technologies.

We have established numerous courses in which students can learn about the mechanisms of tourism ICT and online travel, such as AI, AR, VR and drones. Students learn high-level data collection, analysis and dissemination capabilities demanded by the tourism industry.

5 Diverse language learning opportunities to enable response to inbound tourism to Japan.

Plenty of courses directly linked to tourist guiding or tourism interpretation, as well as overseas internships and study programs. We also provide an "anytime, anywhere" learning environment using e-learning.

6 Courses to prepare for a Master's degree

Rich array of specialist tourism courses needed for tourism administration tourism company research at graduate school.

7 Support for practical learning about strong regional collaboration and industry-academia collaboration.

Achieving great learning experiences at diverse workplaces of the tourism industry through collaboration with regional and private companies.

8 High employment rate through high-level and skill-incorporated education for tourism professionals

Our former graduates are active in diverse fields of the tourism industry after gaining language skills, professional qualifications and problem-solving knowledge through hands-on learning experiences.

Faculty of Humanities

The Faculty of Humanities develops the minds and sensitivity of students and to enable them to seek out truth in topics of understanding humans. We aim to assist students to gain basic knowledge in humanities and we also train them to utilize the knowledge and act autonomously.

Department of Contemporary Culture

Students reexamine modern Japanese culture from various perspectives such as history, language, international relations, tradition and subculture.

Amid the current focus on cultural relics and heightened hopes for registration of Jomon remains as a world heritage site. Students learn, through archaeology, about the history, knowledge, arts and more, of the people who lived in Hokkaido during those ages. Starting with necessary English skills for modern multicultural coexistence, students learn to communicate in foreign languages.

Department of Psychology: Clinical Psychology Program

Students aim to become supporters of peoples' hearts and mind by being considerate and understanding of others.

We aim to foster our students to be considerate individuals by deepening their understanding of people and by examining interpersonal relations and contemporary social issues such as crime, delinquency and truancy. Students begin their learning journey by examining their own personalities, worries and families. We cultivate clinical psychologists through four years of undergraduate study and two years of graduate school.

Department of Psychology: Child Psychology Program

Fostering students to be professionals of pre-school education and childcare and to be capable of responding to the needs of the workplace using knowledge about psychology.

We aim to foster specialists to provide support for the entire child-rearing process. We train our students by deepening their understanding of parental concerns, as well as the hearts and minds of children based on the theory of child development psychology. After graduation, our students can choose their career path to become kindergarten teachers, nursery school teachers, childcare supervisors, civil servants, company employees, or to become graduate students.

Faculty of Sports and Human Studies

The Faculty of Sports and Human Studies aims to foster competent professionals to respond to rising demands for sports and health amid a transition to a lifelong learning society and to contribute to the creation of individual health and the stimulation of regional sports.

Department of Sports Business

Regional revitalization through knowledge and skills for linking together sports and business

Sports business is work that directly or indirectly supports athletes and/or sports. We foster professionals to be active in sports and the workplace, through various learning experiences, consisting not only of knowledge about sports, but also business administration and management, coaching skills, and health management. Students learn know-how on enlivening regions through sports.

Department of Sports Instruction

Through our 4-year program, students learn the knowledge, skills and communication capabilities needed to become teachers.

Our program features curriculum composed for the purpose of fostering teachers and sports instructors. In the first year of this program, we assist students to obtain qualifications and provide initiatives to help them pass teacher employment examinations. There is also a rich array of exercises to enhance communication skills. essential for instructors, in addition to learning practical sports theory through classes using sports facilities and the latest equipment.

Junior College and Graduate School

Junior College

Department of Human Development and Career Studies

Offering courses and course units to learn knowledge and practical skills which are useful in many business fields.

In this department, students focus on learning fundamental skills that are needed in modern society. In addition, they learn "skills for living" through practical exercises and seminar classes across a wide range of business fields such as finance, secretarial skills, aviation, medical assistant, bridal, hotel and the fashion industry. They also choose their interests from 12 course units and a "Human development course", "Office career course" and "English career course" in order to improve their professional knowledge and skills.

Department of Early Childhood Education and Childcare

Through our step-by-step learning method, every student can check their learning progress, and can become a childcare professional.

Students can learn the theory of childcare to support children's growth and development. They can see their learning progress at each point. In addition, with a consistent curriculum, we provide not only interesting but also highly specialist classes. All students have the possibility to become a childcare professional. As long as they like to care for children; even if they are a beginner, they can be a professional, because our faculty teaches carefully and logically. Since the establishment of the department in 1969, students who have graduated now work at kindergartens, nursery schools and welfare institutions.

Graduate School

Graduate School of Tourism

A base of knowledge of the professional tourism industry.

One of the main features of our graduate school is our comprehensive research into various issues of tourism. We approach a variety of tourism issues such as tourism culture, tourism stimulation, and tourism project/campaign through various perspectives: sociology, geography, history, management studies and psychology. All those who are interested in promoting tourism are welcomed. Students can carry out research with their individual instructor. We open our doors wide to students interested in the various issues of tourism and provide individual guidance.

Graduate School of Psychology

Exploring mental health issues caused by living in a modern society

We provide a practical program with students to explore clinical psychology with experienced clinical instructors, in order that they can become professional psychotherapists upon graduation. We aim to train psychotherapists who can meet current needs including relieving concern and anxiety caused by living in modern society. After graduating from SIU, you will be eligible to take "the licensed psychotherapist" exam.

Graduate School of Sports and Health Instruction

For health maintenance and promotion by sports

Students learn scientific theory, teaching skills and practical theory related to health maintenance and promotion by sports. The main goal is to train students to become sports instructors with practical teaching skills. This graduate school cooperates with local governments and NPO/NGO for promoting public health and sports in Hokkaido in order to widen students' practical knowledge of the current situation of health and sports in local societies.

University Entrance Fee, Tuition, and Reduction System for International Students

Since the 2018 academic year, the Sapporo International University's tuition fee exemption policy for self-supporting international students has been established. This tuition fee exemption policy will be applied to all self-supporting international students who fulfill certain requirements. Those who qualify gain tuition fee and entrance fee exemption (hereinafter "fee exemption for international students"). In addition, those who obtain high scores may be granted an additional fee exemption (hereinafter "special fee exemption for international students").

Fee Exemption for International Students

1. Requirements

This fee exemption is applicable for those who are going to enroll in our university's regular course or currently studying at our university's regular course. In addition, those who apply for this exemption must have valid study visa or must be possible to obtain study visa in Japan. Candidates who are eligible for the exemption will be selected by university following these conditions: whether it is difficult for candidates to continue studying at our university for economic reasons, or whether it is admitted for candidates to aspiringly study hard by university.

2. Number of Grantees and Exemption Rate

Type	Tuition Fee Exemption Rate	Faculties to which this Applies	Period of Exemption	Number of Grantees
Exemption for International Students	Entrance fee 50%	All Faculties	Four Years	All Applicants Fulfilling the Requirements
	Tuition 35%

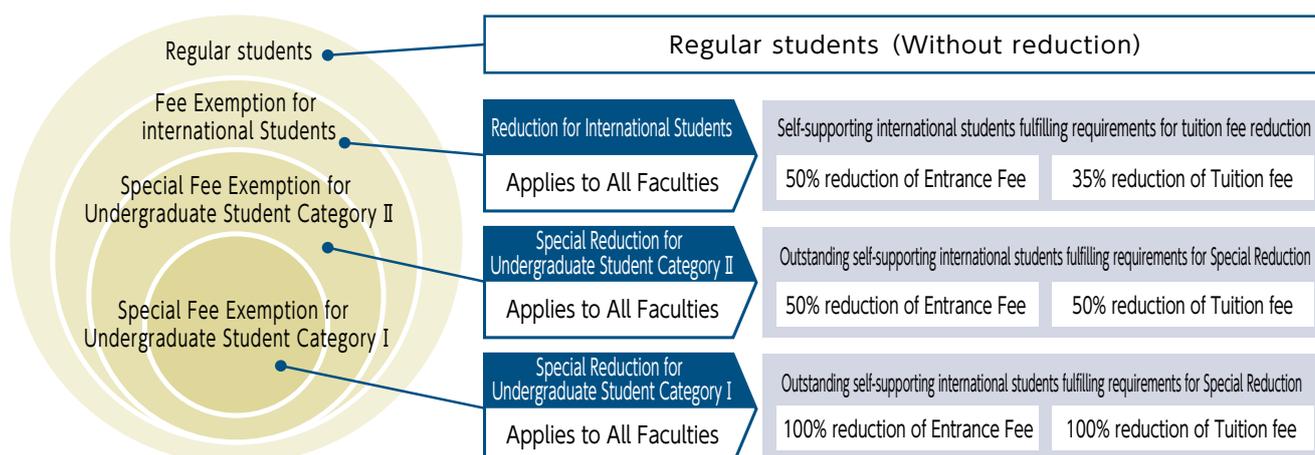

Special Fee Exemption for "Undergraduate Student Category I & Undergraduate Student Category II"

1. Requirements

Special fee exemption "for Undergraduate category I" and "for Undergraduate category II" is applicable for those who are going to enroll in our university's regular course or currently studying at our university's regular course. In addition, candidates who are eligible for the exemption will be selected by university according to the candidates' score of these subjects of Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU): "Japanese as a foreign language (Reading Comprehension, Listening, Listening-Reading Comprehension)", "Writing" Section for "Japanese as a Foreign Language" and "Japan and the World". Also, the score of Japanese Language Proficiency Test (JLPT), other proficiency test score (TOEFL, TOEIC etc.) and our original interview exam are also evaluated. We put our original evaluation point on each subject's score, and candidates who got the highest point can apply for the special fee exemption. Period of fee exemption is for 1 year, and we do the selection of candidates every year.

2. Number of Grantees and Exemption Rate

Type	Tuition Fee Exemption Rate	Faculties to which this Applies	Period of Exemption	Number of Grantees
Undergraduate Student Category I	Entrance fee 100%	All Faculties	One Year	Top 10% of applicants who pass the assessments
	Tuition 100%
Undergraduate Student Category II	Entrance fee 50%	All Faculties	One Year	Top 10% of applicants who pass the assessments excluding those who gain Fee Exemption of Undergraduate Student Category I
	Tuition 50%

* In addition to the fee above, you need to pay fee of personal accident insurance for students pursuing education and research. (1,750 yen - 2,600 yen *depending on department/entrance term)

Other Scholarship Systems

Japan Student Services Organization (JASSO), and NGOs, etc., also provide scholarships. Most of the scholarships are only applicable for students who have outstanding grades, and need a recommendation by the university.

Application Requirements

Application Qualifications

Students who satisfy all of the following requirements may apply.

1. Students aged 18 or over by April 1 of the year of enrollment who have foreign nationality and students who have already obtained Study Abroad visa, or are going to obtain the visa after enrollment.
2. Students who satisfy one of the following conditions:
 - a) Students who have completed, or are going to complete 12 school years by March 31 of the year of enrollment.
 - b) Students who are permitted by the Ministry of Education as fulfilling condition a)
 - c) Students who have obtained International Baccalaureate Certification.
3. Students who satisfy any of the following conditions:
 - a) Students who have obtained the following reference points on application in the Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU) operated by JASSO or the Japanese Language Proficiency Test (JLPT).
 - b) Those who are approved by SIU.

Examination for Japanese University Admission for International Students (EJU)

200 points or more in Japanese
Total score of Listening, Reading, Listening/Reading Comprehension

In the 1st examination held in the academic year one year prior to enrollment or the 1st or 2nd examination held in the academic year two years prior to enrollment.

Japanese Language Proficiency Test (JLPT)

N2 or above

In the 1st examination held in the academic year one year prior to enrollment or the 1st or 2nd examination held in the academic year two years prior to enrollment.

Please refer to the Entrance Examination Guidelines for detailed content.

Residential

For accommodations at SIU, we rent an single-room apartment and provide it for international students, for around 30,000 yen / month.

It may be possible for international students to rent an apartment by themselves. But in Japan, you need a “guarantor” to rent an apartment if you are a foreigner. Also, there is no furniture with rental housing in Japan and you need to buy what you require. We recommend you live in the rental apartment provided by the university.

Equipment provided in our rented-apartments	Home appliances	Furniture	Others
	TV, refrigerator, washing machine (shared), lighting, heating	Bed, curtains	Cooking utensils, cutlery, bed linen

Working Part-time

Obtaining Permission to Engage in Activity Other Than That Permitted under the Status of Residence

International students who entered Japan on a Study Abroad visa who wish to supplement their student fees and living costs by working part-time are required to obtain in advance Permission to Engage in Activity Other Than That Permitted under the Status of Residence. By obtaining the permission, students may work part-time for up to 28 hours per week (or up to 8 hours per day during school vacation periods). Working without obtaining this permission may result in a fine of up to 200,000 yen or imprisonment for up to one year.

Clothing for Winter in Sapporo

Average temperature in Sapporo

Summer(Aug.) : 22.2°C

Winter(Feb.) : -5.1°C

The climate in Sapporo has the typical characteristics of the climate on the Japan Sea coast with a cool summer and heavy snow in winter. You may be concerned that it will be very cold in Hokkaido in winter, but don't worry. Residences and buildings are insulated against the cold and use heating, so when you are inside, you feel even warmer than inside most buildings in other parts of Japan.

It is convenient to have fleece clothing, etc. so that you can add an extra layer inside your coat when necessary.

Shoes with a jagged grip are good at preventing slipping when the ground is frozen.

It is recommended to wear thin functional inner clothing so that you can adjust to both warm and cold temperatures.

It is important to prevent your legs from getting cold by wearing leg warmers when wearing tights and shorter length pants. Disposable heat packs ("Kairo") are also useful.

Snow boots are warm and prevent you from slipping on snowy roads.

Support for International Students

Sapporo International University provides various supports for international students to enable them to enjoy a fulfilling student life. If you are ever worried about something, don't hesitate to consult us.

Seven Support Systems

Orientation for International Students

At the beginning of each semester, we hold an orientation for international students. We provide a briefing on life in Sapporo, student life, registering for courses, and other necessary items.

Japanese Classes for International Students

For the purpose of supporting the Japanese language learning of international students we offer Japanese classes divided by level. These Japanese classes can be counted toward your graduation requirements.

Course Consultation

During the course registration period each semester, we will help you with your course plan, not only for registering for courses for graduation requirement credits, but also by listening to your hopes and preferences about obtaining qualifications, etc.

Support of Continuing Employment in Japan

If you wish to find a job in Japan after graduation, the Career Support Center will help with job hunting. For example, the Career Support Center provides you with job information in Japan, teaches you how to find jobs, and trains you in job interview skills.

Living Support

We offer advice on student life, living alone in Sapporo, part-time jobs, health care and others.

Scholarships

We provide information on various scholarships and advice on applying.

Support for Various Procedures

We provide support for procedures such as change to or renewal of your period of stay, or change of address.

Campus Events

Making Your Student Life Full of Smiles and Memories!

From enrollment to graduation, your campus life at Sapporo International University will be full of colorful memories with various events such as the University Festival and Sports Festival, which are organized by you and other students. Participating in these events and fully enjoying student life are the best experiences to help you make lasting friendships so that your university life may be full of smiles and memories.
